

THE ENNEAGRAM

BUILDING YOUR WORLD

over centuries the enneagram was applied to human behavior, relationships and typologies. its formula illustrates continuity and evolution within the great cycle of existence. all life undergoes identical transformations. inner and outer relationships, the connection between numbers, angles and forms represent multiple aspects of reality, as do the four elements, the seasons and natural phenomena that generate the impulse towards transcendence.

in this course, the role of consciousness and the impulse of personality with all the internal dynamics that determine appearance and consequences stand revealed. we are then free to understand the depth of relationship with ourselves and others. the result: practical, effective, unique and individual tools for the construction of our personal world.

three days of study, meditation and fun processes dedicated to the art of conceiving and creating our life in accordance with the tangible possibilities available to you.
